Producer

From a family fishing business, to making the perfect wines to match. Albariño at its best. Bodegas Laureatus is a relatively new winery established by the Oubiña-Somoza family, who for decades have been recognised as one of the best suppliers of shellfish in Spain. Laureano Oubiña's long held ambition to make wine was realised with the purchase of a vineyard in the Val do Salnés area of Rías Baixas. The ground in this area is coarse, sandy and rich in silica. The vineyard is on sloping land with a south to south west orientation to provide the perfect microclimate for the production and ripening of quality grapes

Bodegas Laureatus are focused exclusively on the production of quality wines using the Albariño grape.
